Fraternal Union.

A large, refined and intelligent audience greeted the public open reception given by the Salem lodge of this order, and a splendid musical and literary program was rendered.

E. Hofer delivered the address of welcome and spoke of the social and civilizing influence of fraternal societies. They were next to the churches and schools, the most potent influence for training men; and women in the higher duties of citizenship.

Col. Handley, of Denver, delivered an address on the history of fraternal societies that was very instructive, and made an impression very favorable to this order. His work resulted in strengthening the Fraternal Union at Salem.

The Ordinary Sleeper—A New Feature in Western Travel.

The Pullman Company now operates two grades of sleeping cars via the Rio Grande Western Railway. The ordinary sleepers are entirely new, and the berths, both upper and lower, are fitted up complete with mattresses, blankets, sheets, pillows, curtains, etc., with stoves arranged for making tea, coffee, etc., requiring nothing to be furnished by passengers. Uniformed Pullman porters are in charge of the cars, who are required to keep them in good order and attend to the wants and comforts of passengers. The cars are very handsome and commodious, and while not so elegant as the Pullman first and second-class passengers are permitted to occupy these cars on payment of the Pullman berth rates, which are less than half of the rates charged in the regular palace sleeping cars.

The ordinary sleepers are carried daily on trains via Rio Grande Western Railway between Denver and San Francisco and Portland. On five days in each week the sleepers are run through between Los Angeles and San Francisco, or Portland and Denver, Omaha, Chicago and Boston.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Caused by Contact With a Live Electric Wire.

Archie McKillop the Victim—Climbs to the Top of an Electric Light Pole and Meets His Death.

About 5 o'clock Monday afternoon one of those accidents to which boys of a bold and adventurous spirit are at all times exposed caused the death of Archie McKillop, son of the Rev. Ronald and Mrs. McKillop, of the First Baptist church. Contact with an electric light wire carrying over 2000 volts of electricity proved instantaneously fatal. He was found lying at the foot of a 25-foot electric pole back of the McKillop residence, the Baptist parsonage, on Liberty street, with life extinct and the palms of both hands burned by the current.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

No one can be said to have been an eye-witness to the accident, but the fact seems to be that the boy climbed the pole, in accordance with a previously expressed intention, and either lost his balance and grasped the wire to save himself, or took hold of it, not realizing the danger.

Archie was very bright and active boy, taking much pride in feats of climbing. During the afternoon he played with a neighbor, Freddie Lamport, and announced his intention of climbing to the top of the electric light pole. Freddie advised him not to, but when his friend went home he procured a short ladder, which was afterward found leaning against the pole, and which enabled him to reach the iron foot-holds, making the ascent easy.

At the E. S. Lamport home across the alley, the attention of Miss Lizzie Velt was attracted by the sound of a disturbance on the wires, and looking out she noticed an appearance of electric flashes at the top of the pole, and had watched it for several seconds when she saw something fall to the ground. Eddie Lamport, with Ida Childers and Edna Hubbard, then went out to investigate.

They found the body on the ground at the foot of the pole and it was carried into the McKillop house and physicians were called. It was at first supposed that he was unconscious from a fall out of a tree near by, but the truth was soon discovered.

There were two wires on the pole, one carrying 2000 volts; the other 3500. It is not known which was touched by the boy, but contact with either would prove instantly fatal.

Archie was of an active and investigating turn of mind, and it is supposed that he wished to investigate the reducer which is upon the pole and from which the lighting wires lead into the Baptist church. He had several times expressed a curiosity to see how this works.

Archie was the youngest of a family of four boys. His oldest brother, Jamie, was at McMinville attending school. He was notified, and came home at once.

The bereaved parents and brothers of the boy so suddenly stricken down have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community, in their affliction.

The funeral services will be held at the First Baptist church at 2 p. m. Wednesday, and burial will take place in the Odd Fellows cemetery.
